“ My PawPaw could be hilarious when he wanted to be- you never knew what he was going to say. I know he wasn't always cheerful, but he had a sharp-wit and often made me laugh- even when he was being grumpy. He loved his Jerry Lee Lewis music and to watch him tapping his foot and wiggling in his truck seat to the beat was pure gold. He had a knack for joking around, making faces and voices which made him very entertaining to his his grandchildren and great-grandchildren. I'll miss him very much.

“ Gwen I am so sorry, I know you are hurting and if you need to talk or cry I am here for you. Oscar is at peace now and with your mom. I Wish I could be there for you. But just know that I'm thinking about you today and if you need me for anything don't hesitate to call. I keep thinking about the memories I have of "the farm" & all the fun we had growing up together. I can see your dad walking around the yard towering over us like a giant. I use to think he was the tallest man in the world!

“ I loved papaw very much. I have many humorous memories of him from when I was a child. For example, he used to spy on us (Kristy, myself, Brett, April, Adam, Jennifer, and Candi) when we would play house in the backyard. Every once in a while we would see his head peeking around the house and once he saw us looking he would quickly disappear. We thought that was so funny!
